

POPULIST DOCTRINES.

Senator Peffer, the wicked Kansas Populist, delivered a speech on the tariff question last week. He said all the taxes paid by the people amount to nearly one-half the public debt at the close of the war. People are taxed in every way and it ought to be the aim of statesmen to make these burdens lighter. The difference in the tariff for revenue and the tariff for protection is seen chiefly, not in the aggregate reduction of duties, as the same amount of revenue must be raised, but in the matter of adjusting rates. There is not enough difference between the two schools of tariff statesmen to quarrel about. Both are protectionists as may be seen by comparing the Mills bill with the tariff of 1892, and the Wilson bill with the tariff of 1890. The first tariff of the United States was for two purposes, raising revenue and establishing domestic manufacturing industries. The Wilson bill is a protective measure. It surrenders revenue on the luxuries and discriminates against farms. The duties on many products are of no benefit to the farmer, but when they are they should be permitted to remain if the protective policy is to be maintained. The Wilson bill is no better on the whole than the McKinley law. It has free wool, but taxes clothes; free hides, but taxes shoes; it taxes manufactures, but gives free raw materials. When the tariff for raw gives us free wool and tax the clothing of the men and women who perform the manual labor of the country, may we not inquire where the line is to be drawn between a tariff for revenue only and the culminating atrocity of class legislation?

Senator Peffer says the Populists believe in a graduated income tax and regard it as the most equitable system of taxation. While politicians juggle with the tariff statesmen ought to make it a matter of business. The Populists do not believe in putting down the rich, but in raising up the poor. We do not believe in abandoning wholly the present system. He takes it that professed tariff reformers do not see how greatly their practice contrasts with their theory; they mean well but lack courage. Protection as taught by our fathers is the proper doctrine; protection to domestic industries. Only such industries as can be made national, employing large numbers of people, should be protected, and that only long enough to establish them, after that, save the market for them and no more. Bounties in many cases are better than cheaper duties.

This may be very vicious doctrine. Our golding friends say that everything taught by the Populists is of that character, but as they contend that a tariff which opposes every measure of money, or benefit silver, is in favor of free coinage, their assertions must be taken with a great big grain of allowance.

A LOGICAL DECISION.

Judge Caldwell of the United States Circuit Court, in session at Omaha, has rendered a decision which is remarkable for its clearness of style and logical conclusions. The case in court was that of the employees of the Union Pacific Railroad. The men were enjoined from striking by the United States District Court which held that as the road was in the hands of a receiver appointed by the United States Court, the men were virtually government employees and as such were enjoined from striking for higher wages or less working hours. Judge Caldwell holds that

A corporation is organized capital; it is capital consisting of money and property. Organized labor is organized capital consisting of brains and muscle. What it is lawful for one to do, it is lawful for the other to do. It is lawful for the stockholders and officers of a corporation to associate and confer together for the purpose of reducing the wages of its employees, or of devising other means of making their investments profitable; it is equally lawful for organized labor to associate, consult, and confer with a view to maintain or increase wages. Both act on the promptings of enlightened selfishness, and the action of both is lawful when no illegal or criminal means are used or threatened.

The present rules and regulations of the road are continued in force by the decision, except where the different organizations have voluntarily agreed to modify the overtime features of the schedules. The decision holds that the employees are servants of the court and it lays down stringent rules as to intonation on their part. It settles questions which have been debated for years by employers and employees, and shows that the latter as well as the former have equal rights under the law; the one to confer for the purpose of reducing wages, and the other for the purpose of maintaining increasing wages.

This logical and comprehensive union on labor troubles stands out in striking contrast with the narrow, unjudged and one-sided decisions of Judge Dundy and Judge Jenkins of the United States District Court, which accorded corporations rights and privileges which were denied organized labor.

Ex-Governor Adams, recently appointed Superintendent of the Carson route, arrived from his cattle ranch in White Pine county Sunday afternoon. He is bronzed from exposure on the range and looked like a cowboy. He is for Carson yesterday morning.

SENATOR HILL'S SCHEME.

The news comes from Washington that Senator D. B. Hill of New York, who is a candidate for the Presidency and opposed to Cleveland, is preparing to surprise everybody, by defeating the tariff bill. In explanation of this action he will declare that the Democratic party does not advocate free trade, the assertions of President Cleveland to the contrary notwithstanding. To defeat the Wilson bill he counts upon the support of the Populists in the Senate, who are dissatisfied with the measure, and the Democrats who are out with the administration because of its hostility to silver.

If he succeeds in defeating the Wilson bill, he will, with the protection Democrats, have a revenue measure framed or postpone the entire matter of tariff tinkering indefinitely.

This will make him the leading Democratic candidate on a protection platform in the next Presidential campaign and Cleveland's administration will go down in history as a failure, and it will have no weight in selecting the next nominees of the Democratic party.

These surmises as to Hill's intentions may be wholly unfounded as he keeps his own counsel. It is known, however, that he is opposed to the Wilson bill, and he has given assurances that he will support a free coinage bill. That he will succeed in defeating the Wilson bill is a "consummation devoutly to be wished" by every friend of silver. Whether he does or not there will be no material improvement in business until more money is put in circulation, and if the McKinley bill remains in force the industrial and business depression cannot be attributed to a low tariff and the money question will be brought prominently to the front as the great issue of the day in the Congressional elections next November.

STILL AT OGDEN.

The Industrial Army Guarded by Troops and Not Allowed to go Forward.

OGDEN, April 9.—The California branch of the Industrial Army that left San Francisco arrived here Sunday morning, and unless Governor West rescinds, will stay some time, or go back to California.

As the special train of twenty-four cars, bringing the 1,200 industrialists, pulled into the yards at Ogden it passed between ranks of the Territorial militia and police. At the same moment a Deputy United States Marshal stepped up to Superintendent Knapp of the Southern Pacific and served upon him an injunction issued by Judge Miner of the United States District Court, at the instance of Mayor Brough, forbidding the company to bring the Industrial Army to the city or allow them to leave the train and commanding the company to take them back to the place from whence they came. This is based on the statute against railroads bringing indigent persons into the Territory. The train was side tracked and is surrounded by the militia and police standing guard over it.

The army was very orderly and under perfect control of its leaders. Flags, were displayed from many of the cars but there was but little cheering by either the soldiers or spectators. Among the whole number only one man was reported seriously ill. This afternoon, as the train was standing on the sidetrack at Blue Creek, Utah, and a number of men were on the main track, a train approached. All stepped aside except one man, who was washing his face in the ditch by the track. His comrades yelled at him, but his eyes were blinded by the water and he stepped directly in front of the engine and was instantly killed. The body was brought to Ogden and turned over to the Coroner. His name was Gus Holmquist, and he has a wife and four children in Boston. He worked last year in Fresno as a grape picker, and according to the statement of the captain of Company L, was one of the most orderly men in his company. As the body was taken from the car, a large United States flag was laid upon the coffin, which was carried by six captains. As the procession passed down along the cars, the men removed their hats and stood with bowed heads.

Arguments commenced for the Plaintiff.

THE BRECKINRIDGE CASE.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—Madeline Pollard wore a most becoming bonnet when she entered the court to-day. The audience, composed mostly of members of the bar, was smaller than customary. Judge Bradley announced his decision on the prayers for instructions. Nine prayers of plaintiff were granted in modified form and five were refused. Six prayers of defendant in modified form or substitutes were granted and five refused. Incidentally the Judge said that while the burden of proof rested on plaintiff to show that a contract to marry was entered into, if the defendant set up that the contract was not made in good faith, the burden of proof would rest upon him to show that there was an understanding to that effect.

Attorney Calderon Carlisle opened argument for the plaintiff. After call attention to the disparity in the social positions of plaintiff and defendant, the attorney stated that all the defendants influential acquaintances and family connections were used to unearth things detrimental to the plaintiff's character. He then reviewed the early life of Miss Pollard, stating that it was free from reproach until she met the Colonel.

At Fresno yesterday S. R. Hart was sentenced to State Prison for one year for embezzlement.

CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS.

Debate on the Tariff Bill.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—The second week of the tariff debate in the Senate was opened to-day. There was a very large attendance in the galleries. After receiving the credentials of Patrick Walsh, successor of the late Senator Colquhitt of Georgia, Allen of Nebraska offered a resolution closing general debate on the Tariff on June 5 at 2 o'clock, and that a final vote be taken on June 7 at 2 o'clock.

After consideration of the Mexican Dollar bill had been postponed, Senator Hill delivered an address on the Tariff bill.

A dispatch from St. Paul says the most sensational political address of the year was issued yesterday afternoon to the Democrats of Minnesota by the Democratic Association. After denouncing the McKinley act the address says the Wilson bill, as amended by the Senate, is but little better.

Only the Scars Remain.

"Among the many testimonials which I see in regard to certain medicines performing cures, cleansing the blood, etc.," writes HENRY HUDSON, of the James Smith Woolen Machinery Co., Philadelphia, Pa., "none impress me more than my own case. Twenty years ago, at the age of 15 years, I had swellings come on my legs, which broke and became running sores. Our family physician could do me no good, and it was feared that the bones would be affected. At last, my good old mother urged me to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I took three bottles, the sores healed, and I have not been troubled since. Only the scars remain, and the memory of the past, to remind me of the good Ayer's Sarsaparilla has done me. I now weigh two hundred and twenty pounds, and am in the best of health. I have been on the road for the past twelve years, have noticed Ayer's Sarsaparilla advertised in all parts of the United States, and always take pleasure in telling what good it did for me."

CITIZENS ORGANIZING.

Means Adopted to Protect Property. Rumors were circulated in town yesterday that the captains of the Industrial army stated that they would have a thousand men in their ranks here within 36 hours. This excited some of our citizens and a meeting was held at which Dr. H. Bergstein was elected Chairman and A. L. Wright, Secretary. Resolutions were adopted deprecating the objects of the army and advising against further parades on the streets, and a copy of them given to the leaders and the meeting adjourned until last evening, when it reassembled at the Bank of Nevada.

Sheriff Caughlin stated that he had interviewed the captains of the army, and informed them that no breach of the peace would be tolerated. He said he received assurances that the army would disband and leave town within 24 hours. He said he had an efficient corps of deputies but a resolution was adopted requesting him to put twenty men on duty last night with the assurance that if the Commissioners did not pay them the citizens would do so. It was arranged that in case it became necessary to arouse the citizens an alarm would be rung at the M. E. Church for them to assemble at the engine house.

The Sheriff, Chief of Police and Constable gave assurances that they would keep the peace and that there would be no disturbance on the part of the army.

A SERIOUS ACCIDENT.

Two Ladies Thrown from a Carriage and Seriously Injured.

Yesterday afternoon about 4 o'clock Mrs. Ed Bates of Truckee Meadows, accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Lewis of Blair, Nebraska, who stopped off here on her way to the Midwinter Fair, and Mrs. Rhors of this city, were out driving in Mrs. Bates' carriage. They visited Odd Fellows' cemetery and on coming out Mrs. Lewis and Mrs. Rhors got in the carriage while Mrs. Bates was untying the horse. When untied, the animal turned sharply of a sudden, nearly overturning the carriage and throwing both ladies out on the ground. Mrs. Lewis suffered severe bruises on her head and hip, while Mrs. Rhors had both bones of her right wrist fractured and the flesh broken open.

The horse only ran a few steps and stopped. Mrs. Bates caught him and assisted her wounded companions into the carriage and drove down to Dr. Phillips' office. Mrs. Rhors was taken to her home, near the electric light works from there, in an express wagon, while Dr. Phillips went out with Mrs. Bates and attended Mrs. Lewis, whom he found not seriously injured, although considerably shaken up. He returned to Mrs. Rhors' home, and assisted Dr. Hogan in dressing her wounds.

"THE SPIDER AND THE FLY."

It Was a Great Attraction in Philadelphia.

"The Spider and Fly," which is to appear at the Opera House next Thursday evening, is highly recommended by the press. The Philadelphia Call says: "The 'Spider and Fly' is by far the best attraction that has been produced at the new Empire Theater. It fairly bursts open with new features, new ideas, new costumes, new ballets, pretty girls and good comedians, and some exceedingly popular music. The house was filled to the dome and the number of recalls lengthened an already long programme. To go to work and enumerate all the clever people in the cast would take too much space. There are some novel stage transformations and some remarkably grotesque costumes. Much of the play is in McGinty land, otherwise the bottom of the sea. The groupings and marching of the company in the ensembles made beautiful stage pictures. The pantomimists were excellent, and in fact as a spectacular burlesque this production takes a very high rank. Its season here opened with a success that will be continued throughout the week."

THE INDUSTRIAL ARMY.

The Pledge Taken by Its Members.

Every member of the Industrial Army at the time of his enlistment signs a card on which is printed the following pledge:

"I have sworn to support the Constitution of the United States and the Industrial Army, to obey all lawful orders that may be said, sent or handed to me by those authorized to do so, to render cheerful support and assistance to officers and comrades of the army, to never violate any law of the United States or such State or Territorial laws in which I may be, or aid or abet any riotous conduct, to respect right of property and law and order, and to never act in any manner to bring discredit on the Industrial Army of the United States."

NEVADA'S CONDITION.

Better Fixed Than Some of Her Sister States.

The Ogden Press has the following Condition of the State of Nevada: "The State of Nevada, with its scant population, is financially better fixed than any of her sister States. In some of the counties there is a plethora of money in the county treasury. The irreducible school fund of the State amounts to more than a million and a quarter of dollars. The tax rate of Elko county for this year is $1.80 on the $100 for State, county and school purposes, which the local paper says is too high and should be reduced, as too much money is accumulating in the treasury."

THE INDUSTRIAL ARMY.

It Did Not Get Away Last Night as Expected.

Lieutenant General White went up to Carson Sunday and saw Governor Colcord with regard to what could be done in the way of affording them relief. The Governor told Mr. White that there was nothing he could do for them in his official capacity, but as a private citizen he would extend the army any aid in his power. It was reported that his Excellency contributed $40 to defray their expenses, but this is a mistake.

The army camped down by the railroad bridge and conducted themselves in a peaceable manner. They obeyed their officers and broke no laws of the city.

Last night they marched for a short time about the streets and were addressed by their officers, finally breaking ranks on Center street, near the Palace Hotel.

The two officers, White and Hubert, were requested to go over to Clark & Jones' office, where the resolutions of the citizens' committee were served on them. They said that they determined to leave Reno that night and would board the 1:30 o'clock train going East. The 1:30 train, however, was canceled by the S. P. Company and the army, up to the time the JOURNAL went to press, had not succeeded in getting away.
